Section three: Creative Project

For this project you will be creating a bug motel. This is a manmade structure that can provide shelter for insects. They can come in a variety of shapes and sizes. Many are used as nesting sites for solitary bees. These are bees that do not live in a hive with a queen and they make up a lot of our native bee species. There are a number of reasons why bees and other pollinators are so important to our landscape and crops but unfortunately 1/3 of our bee species are under threat.

https://padlet.com/ruth_mullins/ct4wsqchzd3b

I have linked a padlet above which contains various different videos and websites which demonstrate how to create your very own bug motel. Some can be made with natural materials you would find in your garden or on a walk, some can be made with recyclables and some are for the more DIY able. Remember you need to have adult supervision when using any tools! One of the sites on the padlet tells you what different insects like and dislike in their bug motels and another tells you where is best to place your bug motel when it is built.

Due Date: Friday 12th June

To complete your project:

- Take a picture or video clip of your bug motel
- Write or type up a procedure to show how you made your bug motel. See the example procedure attached to this email
- Remember to include a title, a list of materials used and a list of step by step instructions. Tip: remember to use imperative (bossy) verbs (cut, roll, stick, etc.), to write in the present tense and to number your steps or use chronological language (first, next, then, finally, etc.)
- Best of luck and know that the pollinators of Ireland thank you!
