

Lucan Educate Together
National School

These are the four pillars of our ethos.

In our school we are 'Child Centred'.

This means that we celebrate our diversity and our achievements.

This means that we display every child's work.

This means we often choose the reading we are interested in.

This means that equipment in the school is different for each age group.

This means that each child in our school is an important member of our community.

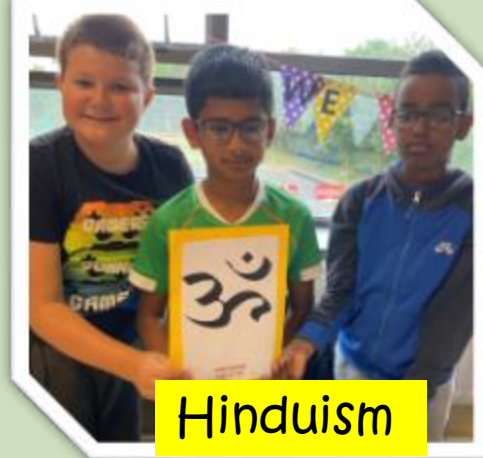

This means that our school supports each pupil to learn in a way that is best for them.

This means that each child belongs here and that each pupil's voice is important.

Democratic

We have choices.
We respect each others
opinions.
We have voices.
We help to make decisions in our classes.
We have a vote.

Co-Educational

We learn together.
We play together.
We help each other.
